

Understanding the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 and its implications for fire doors

From 2007-2011 there were 233 prosecutions in England and Wales under the RRO, ranging from large companies such as the Co-op who were fined £210,000 and small family run businesses who have also been targeted. The RRO shifts the blame to the 'responsible person' of that building; meaning anyone can be prosecuted under the Act for lack of fire safety.
